Full-Stack Developer | Software Engineering

About Me

Full-stack developer with strong foundations in software engineering, automation, and enterprise systems. After two years in technical environments (HCL Tech, Econocom), I transitioned into development, building scalable web apps and APIs with React, Next.js, and Spring Boot. My experience with SCCM, SAP, Azure, Citrix, and ServiceNow gives me a solid understanding of large systems, helping me design robust and maintainable solutions. I write clean code, automate workflows with Python/JavaScript, and turn business needs into efficient technical implementations.
